

Appendix 7.2: Heritage Assets within the Outer Study Area

This Appendix provides details on the heritage assets recorded in the Outer Study Area together with an assessment of their heritage sensitivity and of the potential effects of the Proposed Development on their setting.

This Appendix should be read in conjunction with Chapter 7: Cultural Heritage, Section 7.5: Baseline and Section 7.7: Appraisal of Effects. The locations, and extents, of the recorded heritage assets are shown on Figure 7.2: Cultural Heritage: Outer Study Area.

Asset Ref	Asset Name	Designation	Sensitivity of Asset	Setting (summary)	Magnitude of Impact	VP Figure (where applicable)
SM 2606	Black Hill, fort 650m northwest of Craighead	Scheduled Monument	High	Circular prehistoric fort with three periods of construction, situated on the crest of the southeast spur of Black Hill. Hilltop setting with open aspect to southeast overlooking Duneaton Water.	No impact. No visibility from location of monument or immediate locality.	–
SM 4234	Auchensaugh Hill, cairn	Scheduled Monument	High	Prehistoric burial cairn situated on hilltop overlooking the Black Burn. Prominent hilltop setting with panoramic views. Intervisibility with Thirstone stone circle (SM 5094) and similar cairns atop surrounding hills forms key aspect of setting.	Negligible. Proposed Development would add one tower in the view to the east, backdropped by moorland. Otherwise like-for-like replacement of existing towers would not obstruct intervisibility with prehistoric monuments throughout the valley. The prominence of the cairn and integrity of its landscape setting would be unaltered.	Figure 3.5
SM 4485	Craighead, platform settlement 1200m WNW of	Scheduled Monument	High	Prehistoric settlement consisting of 11 platforms, scooped into the hillside, on the south-facing slope of Black Hill. Open hillside setting with south-facing views over the Duneaton Water. Topography screens views in other directions.	No impact. No visibility from location of monument or immediate locality.	–
SM 4511	Wildshaw Hill, cairn 500m WSW of summit	Scheduled Monument	High	Prehistoric burial cairn, standing in open moorland on a low rise to the southwest of Wildshaw Hill. Low-lying moorland setting enclosed by rising topography. Open view to the southeast affords visibility of Netherton cairn (SM 4513) and Knock Leaven cairn (10454).	Negligible. Minimal predicted visibility of one tower of the Proposed Development almost entirely screened by rising topography in view to the southwest. Views in other directions would be unaffected and integrity of moorland setting would remain unaltered.	–
SM 4513	Netherton, cairn 800m southwest of	Scheduled Monument	High	Prehistoric burial cairn located on a level shoulder at the northwest end of the summit ridge of Black Hill. Hilltop setting with distant views in all directions, with exception of view to southeast screened by hill summit. Intervisibility with similar cairns in valley of Black Burn form key aspect of setting.	Negligible. Proposed Development would add one tower in distant view to the northwest, in context with existing towers. Visibility of diverted OHL would be not detract from views across and between prehistoric monuments throughout the landscape. Proposed towers would be visible beyond and offset from Thirstone stone circle, backdropped by moorland.	Figure 7.6
SM 4517	Craighead, barrow and cairn 820 m northwest of	Scheduled Monument	High	Low grass-covered barrow and cairn, surrounded by a slight ditch, of probable Bronze Age date. Situated on southeast shoulder of Black Hill. Hilltop setting with open aspect to southeast overlooking Duneaton Water.	No impact. No visibility from location of monument or immediate locality.	–
SM 5094	Thirstone, stone circle 1300m NNW of	Scheduled Monument	High	Stone circle, 40m in diameter, situated on a southwest-facing slope 100 m east of the Wildshaw Burn. Low-lying moorland setting with open views to the south, reaching to the surrounding hills. Intervisibility with Auchensaugh Hill forms a key aspect of setting.	Negligible. Proposed Development would add one tower in the view to the west, visible in line with infrastructure. Views of the surrounding landscape and prehistoric monuments would be unaffected. Visibility to and prominence of Auchensaugh Hill would be not be altered and the integrity of the moorland setting would not be diminished.	Figure 7.3
SM 5425	Thorril Castle, bastle house 450m NNE of Parkhead	Scheduled Monument	High	Remains of a group of late 16th or early 17th century farm buildings, situated by the M74 south of the intersection of the Byrecleuch and the Parkhall Burns. Enclosed woodland setting to the east of the modern motorway.	No impact. Visibility of the Proposed Development almost entirely screened by topography in the view to the south, further screened by enclosing woodland.	–

SM 90265	St Bride's Church, Douglas	Scheduled Monument	High	Remains of a church and burial ground dating from the medieval period within the built environment of Douglas.  Urban setting at northern edge of town, within burial ground with northeast-facing aspect overlooking Douglas Water.	No impact.  No visibility from location of monument or immediate locality.	–
10054	Auchensauagh Hill, enclosure	HER (National)	High	Possible ritual or sepulchral monument comprising two concentric annular banks on east-facing slope of Auchensuagh Hill.  Open moorland setting overlooking moorland along valley of the Black Burn, with views to distant hills.	Negligible.  Proposed Development would add one tower in the foreground of the view to the east, largely screened by woodland plantation. Otherwise like-for-like replacement of existing OHL would not obstruct views across the surrounding landscape. The integrity of the moorland setting and visibility of prehistoric monuments throughout and beyond the valley would be unaltered.	Figure 7.4
10061	Weston, mound	HER (National)	High	Sub-circular, grass-covered, earthen mound situated along the route of the Roman road to the south of Douglas.  Low-lying moorland setting with north-facing aspect.	No impact.  No visibility from location of asset or immediate locality.	–
10064	Shiel Burn, enclosure	HER (National)	High	Circular banked enclosure on the south bank of the Shiel Burn.  Situated at edge of commercial forestry plantation on west-facing slope, with views along Shiel Burn.	No impact.  No visibility from location of asset or immediate locality.	–
10066	Andershaw, enclosure	HER (National)	High	Circular banked enclosure situated at the edge of modern commercial forestry.  West-facing aspect overlooking the Glespin Burn.	No impact.  No visibility from location of asset or immediate locality.	–
10078	Andershaw, burial ground	HER (National)	High	Former burial ground and site of chapel and well of probable medieval date, situated to the east of the Glespin Burn.  Open valley setting overlooking the burn to the west.	No impact.  No visibility from location of asset or immediate locality.	–
10081	Mosscastle Hill, cairn	HER (National)	High	Prehistoric burial cairn situated on the summit of Mosscastle Hill.  Open hilltop setting with distant panoramic views of surrounding hills. Key visibility of hilltop cairns on the skyline, including Tinto Hill and Cairn Table.	Negligible.  Distant visibility of the Proposed Development would be backdropped by topography and seen as a like-for-like replacement of the existing OHL. Addition of one tower in the view to the northeast would not constitute a noticeable change in the surroundings or otherwise detract from the prominent hilltop setting.	–
10454	Knock Leaven, cairn	HER (National)	High	Slightly hollowed cairn atop low rise of Knock Leaven, situated to the south of the modern M74.  Open hilltop setting with distant views to surrounding hills, partially enclosed by immediate valley. Intervisibility with similar hilltop cairns in nearby landscape, at Auchensauagh and Netherton, form key aspect of setting.	Negligible.  Proposed Development would add one tower in the view to the northeast, visible beyond and offset from Thirstone stone circle, and in line with the existing OHL. It would not obstruct or detract from reciprocal views between prehistoric monuments across the local landscape. The integrity of the hilltop setting would be unaltered.	Figure 7.5
10457	Backstane Hill, mound	HER (National)	High	Flat-topped, slightly hollowed mound situated on south-facing slope of Backstane Hill.  Open moorland setting with south-facing aspect overlooking the Mill Burn and towards Knock Leaven cairn (10454).	Negligible.  Distant visibility of the Proposed Development almost entirely screened by intervening topography. Key views to the south and across the moorland landscape would be uninterrupted and the Proposed Development would not constitute a noticeable change in the surroundings.	–
10535	Crawfordjohn Mill, cairn	HER (National)	High	Remains of a probable cairn situated on the southwest-facing slopes of Black Hill.  Open hillslope setting with distant views to southwest across the valley of the Black Burn.	Negligible.  Distant visibility of the Proposed Development in the view to the northeast, visible in line with existing OHL towers. Key views to the southwest and south would be unaltered and the integrity of the valley setting with long-distance views of the surrounding hills would be undiminished.	–

10665	Ewe Hill, cairn	HER (National)	High	Large, low cairn situated on the level summit of Ewe Hill in open moorland. Hilltop setting with distant panoramic views. Far-reaching views taking in similar hilltop cairns form a key aspect of setting.	Negligible. Proposed Development would add one tower in view to the south-southwest, almost entirely screened by intervening topography and backdropped by moorland. Intervisibility with prehistoric monuments in the surrounding landscape would be unobstructed and the prominence of features along the skyline would not be diminished.	–
13295	Auchensaugh Hill, mound	HER (National)	High	Possible ditched mound situated on the lower east flank of Auchensaugh Hill. Open moorland setting with principally southeast-facing views along the Black Burn.	Negligible. Proposed Development would constitute a near like-for-like replacement of the existing OHL, with the addition of one tower in the view to the east largely screened by intervening woodland. Principal views of the surrounding hills would be unaltered.	–
