What personal data do we collect and process from you?

Iberdrola shall only process your personal data that is necessary to fulfill the processing purposes informed below. The personal data that we may process about you are:

- Name, surname(s), DNI/NIF/NIE, passport, postal address, fixed/mobile phone number, e-mail, image and signature. In the case of the contact person, also his or her e-mail address, for the purposes of the double authentication factor detailed in the section on the purposes of processing;
- Activity; and
- Bank details for transfers and payments.

Iberdrola may ask you to provide the original documentation and a copy of it as evidence to support the information you have provided.

How do we collect your personal data?

You provide us with your personal data through the information that you provide to us during the contracting process and during the contractual relationship with you or with the legal entity you represent or acts as contact person.

If you do not provide us with the personal data requested, we may not be able to proceed with the contractual relationship, with our legal obligations and manage our activity.

We ask you to update your personal data as they change, and always provide accurate information, as we must have your current information.

For what purposes do we process your data?

The information you provide will be treated according to the following purposes:

- a) Maintenance, development and control of the contractual relationship
- b) Internal management of suppliers
- c) Preparation of surveys and statistics and internal reports.
- d) Management of collections and payments
- e) Administrative management
- f) Submission of tax information
- g) Management of administrative and judicial procedures and actions with public bodies related to this matter.
- h) In the case of the e-mail of the contact person with the Iberdrola Group, to apply a double authentication factor consisting of adding a second method of user verification.
- i) To have the background of the contracts made by Iberdrola with the supplier, for the purpose of considering it as a criterion in future contracts.
- j) Managing the coordination of business activities and the prevention of occupational hazards of contractors and health and safety, where applicable.
- k) Management of complaints and queries in the supplier's ethical channel, analysis of possible conflicts of interest and analysis of solvency, anti-corruption, fraud or related risks.

In relation to the purpose indicated in section k), specifically in relation to risk analysis, we hereby inform you that personal data of individuals (attorneys-in-fact, directors or shareholders) linked to the Iberdrola Group company supplier, legitimately obtained from public records or from certain companies such as Refinitiv or Dow Jones, may be used to carry out these analyses (company privacy notices linked below):

<https://www.refinitiv.com/en/products/world-check-kyc-screening/privacy-statement>

<https://djlogin.dowjones.com/privacy/default.aspx?fcpi=es>

The Supplier agree to inform such persons in accordance with this privacy notice, keeping the Iberdrola Group company with which you have a contractual relationship harmless from any damages that may result from failure to comply with this obligation.

What is the legal basis for the data processing?

The legal basis for the processing of your data for the purposes indicated in paragraphs a) and d) above is the execution of the contractual relationship.

The legal basis for the processing of the data in accordance with the purposes b), c), e), g), h) and i) is the legitimate interest of Iberdrola in, respectively, (i) administering and properly organising its relations with suppliers, (ii) improving such relations and obtaining statistics in this respect, (iii) to maintain adequate internal management of the Group, (iv) to exercise its right to effective judicial protection of its rights of defence, (v) to guarantee the security of its computer networks and (vi) to maintain a record of contracts that will facilitate future processes of contracting with the supplier.

The legal basis for the processing of your data for purposes (f) and (j) is to comply with legal obligations.

The legal basis for the processing of the data for the purpose k) is the public interest and the legitimate interest of Iberdrola in the creation and maintenance of information systems through which the company can be informed of the commission, within the company or by third parties contracting with it, of acts that may be contrary to the applicable regulations or to the internal rules of Iberdrola, respectively.

How long do we store your data?

The personal data processed to fulfil the purposes a), b), d), e), f), g), h), j) and k) will be kept for the time necessary to fulfil the purpose for which they were collected and in any case until the end of the contractual relationship. The data may be kept subsequently, duly blocked, until the expiry of the limitation period of any obligations to which Iberdrola is subject and any liabilities arising from the processing of such data.

The personal data processed for the purpose contained in point c) will be kept until the survey, statistics or report has been drawn up.

The personal data collected to fulfil the purpose i), will be kept by Iberdrola after the end of the contract as long as the supplier's interest in being contracted by Iberdrola subsists and therefore does not oppose such processing.

Who will receive your data?

Your personal data (or the personal data of the representative or contact person in the case of legal entities) may be disclosed to third parties or public bodies when it is necessary for (i) the management, development and execution of the contractual relationship, including the fulfilment of our obligations or the exercise of our rights, (iii) if we are obliged to do so by virtue of a legal obligation or (iv) to comply with a judicial or administrative order from a competent authority.

The data may be communicated to the companies of the Iberdrola Group that have an interest in contracting you. Such Iberdrola Group companies are those listed on the corporate website https://www.iberdrola.com/wcorp/gc/prod/es_ES/corporativos/docs/IB_Informe_Financiero_Anuual.pdf

In this context, in the event that the communication of your personal data occurs to Iberdrola Group companies located outside the European Economic Area, in countries that do not offer an adequate level of protection of personal data equivalent to that established in the European Union, we inform you that such transfers will be made in accordance with applicable data protection laws and our binding corporate rules ("BCR"). Having BCRs in place means that all entities in our group that subscribe to them have to comply with the GDPR and the same internal rules. It also means that you have the same rights regardless of where Iberdrola processes your data. You can download a copy of the Iberdrola Group BCRs in www.iberdrola.com

The data will be accessible by external service providers linked to the contractual relationship such as billing and payment services, administration of accounts payable, consulting and reporting services and IT services, with which we have entered into legally required contracts under which they guarantee the fulfilment of their obligations as data processors. In these contracts, when the companies are located in a third country that does not offer an adequate level of protection of personal data equivalent to that established in the European Union, Iberdrola will ensure that it has the appropriate measures in place so that your data is protected in the country and organization of destination in identical or similar terms to those provided for in European and Spanish regulations. You may contact Iberdrola at any time to learn about the specific guarantees that have been implemented for the adequate and appropriate protection of your data.

What are your rights?

You have the right of access to your personal data, as well as to request the rectification of inaccurate data or, where appropriate, to request its erasure when data is no longer necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, in addition to exercising the right to object and restrict the processing and data portability.

You can exercise these rights by writing us at: dataprotection_corporate@scottishpower.com or Data Protection Officer, Scottish Power UK Plc, 320 St Vincent Street, Glasgow, G2 5AD.

You also have the right to file a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office if you are dissatisfied with the response provided by ScottishPower regarding the exercising of any of your rights.
