SP Energy Networks is upgrading the electricity network in central and southern Scotland. With total demand set to double by 2050, we need a grid that's ready to meet future electricity needs, while boosting the nation's energy security for generations to come.

To help make this happen, we need to uprate and refurbish the existing overhead electricity lines from 275 kV to 400 kV between Windyhill and Lambhill substations (XE Route) and Lambhill and Denny North substations (XD Route). This will help strengthen the electricity transmission network and help guarantee secure energy supplies for the future.

Work will include upgrades to tower foundations, access routes and upgrades at Windyhill, Lambhill and Denny North substations to enable the network to operate at 400 kV (400,000 volts).

We are now consulting on our outline plans and want to hear from local communities before we further develop our proposals.

Our public consultation runs from Tuesday 3 November 2026 to Monday 7 December 2026.

You can view the consultation information and provide feedback online, or in-person at our public exhibitions.
